Meet QRPH

Hear it from Dr. Pounder:

"After-hours emergency is fast-paced; there's a lot of things to learn.

But when you go home, your records are done for the day.

The time off is the nicest part.

At QRPH, there's better work-life balance and better management of time."

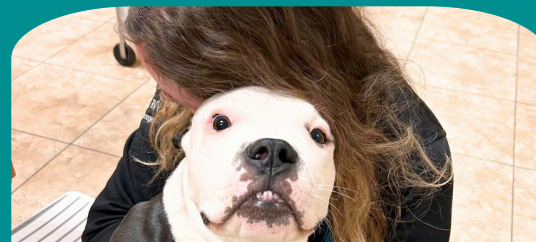

If you're considering a career in emergency veterinary medicine, QRPH near the beautiful Bay of Quinte is the perfect place to follow your calling.

Here, you'll meet a diverse team that plays on one another's strengths, works together to care for pets, and comforts families in their most vulnerable moments.

We're looking for a confident veterinarian with at least 2 years of experience. In return for your talents, you'll receive mentorship and support from your colleagues, all while enjoying outstanding work-life balance.

Working at an emergency hospital means your day ends when your shift is over. This structure allows you to leave work behind and enjoy personal time to the fullest.

You're not bound by time slots. Take the time to thoroughly explain procedures and run diagnostics to deliver exceptional patient care and build stronger bonds with your clients.

Check out a variety of local events, from Porch Fest, where you can enjoy live music right outside your door, to Soup Fest, where local chefs battle for the best culinary creation. Or have fun at concerts, farmers' markets, and world-class restaurants nearby.

This isn't just a place for a rewarding career in emergency med, but a place to make lifelong memories. QRPH offers the perfect combo of professional growth and community.

Ready to tackle interesting cases head-on and make a real difference right when it matters most? Apply today –we can't wait to meet you.

"This team is all amazing in different ways, from client communication to patient handling.

The client care team is wonderful at preparing estimates before people come in, so it's easier to get buy-in on diagnostics and medication."

What our clients say

Jennifer Brant

Quinte Regional Pet Hospital provided the best service for my injured pup. Right from the calming response on the phone I knew they would take good care of him. They provided pain relief upon arrival to ensure he was comfortable and diagnosed his injuries with X-rays and treatment plan. We are so grateful that you were open on the weekend and able to take him in right away. He is on the mend and back to his happy energized self ❤️🩹🐶

Leslie Smith

I would highly recommend Quinte Regional Pet Hospital. Staff were very helpful, caring and were up front about everything including the cost of each procedure and asked for approval before doing anything. I would 100% trust them to take care of my furbabies again. My baby is doing so much better now thanks to them ❤️
